

LATCH

A Journal for the Study of the Literary
Artifact in Theory, Culture, or History

Vol. 3 (2010)

ISSN 1940-5731

Religion and Anatomy in John Banister's The Historie of Man (1578)

Johnathan H. Pope, pp. 1-33

The Moor's Last Sigh: National Loss and Imperial Triumph in Lope de Vega's The Last Goth

Bruce R. Burningham, pp. 34-63

Betraying Origins: The Many Faces of Aeneas in Medieval English Literature

Joanna Scott, pp. 64-84

The Mummers' Play St. George and the Fiery Dragon and Book I of Spenser's Faerie Queene

Jennifer C. Vaught, pp. 85-106

Wrestling for the Ram: Competition and Feedback in Sir Thopas and The Canterbury Tales

Baba Brinkman, pp. 107-133

It's Miller Time! Baba Brinkman's Rap Adaptation of the Miller's Tale

Peter G. Beidler, pp. 134-150

Who Knows Not Southwell's Clout?* Assessing the Impact of Robert Southwell's Literary Success upon Edmund Spenser

Gary M. Bouchard, pp. 151-163

What Seamus Heaney Did to Beowulf: An Essay on Translation and Transmutation of English Identity

Sandra M. Hordis, pp. 164-172

L A T C H

A Journal for the Study of the Literary Artifact in Theory, Culture, or History

Managing Editor

M. Horn, Kent State U

Copy Editor

Paul Neel, Kent State U

Submission Review Panel, Vol. 3 (2010)

Richmond B. Adams

Charles Briggs

Mark Busbee

Julie Campbell

Rob DesJardins

Jeremiah Hindman

Tim Jordan

Kenneth McGraw

Caitlin McHugh

Brett Mize

William J. Silverman

Ken Simpson

Kristen Stirling,

Brent Stypczynski

Kelly Washbourne

Andrew C

Georgia Southern U

Florida Gulf Coast U

Eastern Illinois U

U of Alberta-Edmonton

Northeast Texas Com. C

Kent State U

Roanoke C

U of Minnesota

Texas A&M U

Florida State U

Thompson Rivers U

U de Lausanne, Switzerland

Columbus St. Comm. C

Kent State U

Aims and Scope: LATCH: A Journal for the study of the Literary Artifact in Theory, Culture, or History seeks to showcase scholarly writing that examines how texts both shape and are shaped by the material and ideological currents of their own time or of the past. Since texts cannot stand above the constraints and influences of their socio-historical settings, a research emphasis on how and where the nonliterary invades, supports, illuminates, or undermines the literary can only enrich the ongoing study of the intertextuality of literature.

Instructions to Authors: Submissions must be written in English and organized according to the MLA (7th ed.) method of format and documentation. The acceptable length of submissions is roughly from ten to thirty single-spaced pages, including footnotes (no endnotes please). The writing style must render the essay accessible to the generally educated layperson; therefore, the initial instances of technical jargon or diction germane to one academic discipline, if such terms are necessary to the argument, should be defined in the text or in footnotes. Discriminatory or socially inappropriate language will be rejected. All submissions must be electronically submitted.

Indexing Services: LATCH is indexed in the MLA International Bibliography and is provided full text in EBSCO's Humanity International.

Contact: mhorn3@kent.edu; pneel1@kent.edu; LATCH, c/o Matt Horn, 2416 6th St., Cuyahoga Falls, OH 44221.

Copyright and Photocopying: Copyright 2009 by the several authors and LATCH, under Open Latch Publications. Authors may photocopy and distribute their articles without written permission from LATCH as long as no monetary profit is gained by such action. Any professional reprinting or republication by the author must include a byline stating that the work has been published in LATCH: A Journal for the Study of the Literary Artifact in Theory, Culture, or History Vol. 2 (2009).

Exceptions to House Style: In quotation, in-text citation, and full-entry citation mechanics, certain stylistic preferences or peculiarities have been retained in some cases in deference to the author(s), as long as the author(s) consistently applied these items of format throughout the individual article.

Disclaimer: The views expressed in the articles of this journal are not necessarily the views of the editors or panel members of the journal.

openlatch